

Health Care Support Worker
$20.95/hr
Term (12 months)

Have you been considering a career in health care and don't know where to start? This amazing work-study opportunity offers paid employment while you go to school to be a Health Care Aide, and tuition is included. Kyalami Place Assisted Living in Keremeos, BC has funding to support one student through this exciting program. Our facility has 14 residents, and an amazing and caring staff.

Once they are hired into the program, HCSWs undertake a standardized orientation and alternate between periods of work with their employer and study through a designated post-secondary institution (Okanagan College).

When studies have been successfully completed, HCSWs will be able to register through the BC Care Aide and Community Health Worker Registry, and work as a Health Care Aide in BC. They will have return of service obligations to the employer provided they are offered a regular position.
